OVERVIEW

I'm a russian student that currently working and studying in Italy. I moved in Italy because i want to have a good european education that will give me the opportunity to find a good and interesting job. My first study at university was in Russia on the law specialisation. Later i had found an interesting university in Milan and enrolled study there on the tourism specialisation.

As a working experience i had been working at russian beauty farm as administrator during 6 months. The next job was in USA in the New Jersey state as a cashier, that was a special program for student that gave me chance to work and travel in that country.

Currently i'm working in Italy as an interpreter and tourist guide. We work with russian tourists that arrived to Milan and need a help to organise their holidays. I love my job, but i want to improve my English in Australia and to have working experience there. I have been in Brisbane in november - december 2013 and i like that city, i'm sure there must be some vacancy for me, because the tourism industry in Australia is one of the best in the world.

ACHIEVEMENTS

One of the major achievements that i have made during my carreer was that i have studied italian language alone at home during four months before coming to Italy and i had got a pre-intermediate level that was enough to start the study in university on italian language. As i think this language level not every one will get it by studing alone.
Now i'm living in Italy and i work as interpreter that improves my italian language every day.
