Hybrid – corporate quality, right flexibility

Bizness Linkerz is a specialised translation and redrafting company serving established consultancies and corporates.

Our hybrid business model brings together corporate background and freedom of action: we take the best from both and go from there.

What we are keeping all skeleton staff shares corporate background, including best practices when it comes to the project flow, running back office and delivering unparalleled quality.

We deliver.

What we are bringing our translation capacity is decentralised, but not disconnected. Running a carefully selected team of outside translators and editors helps keep costs down and lets us pass on the savings to you.

We are more flexible.
