

Company Overview

We don't change your product,
we make it available to new markets

Palex is an internationally recognized provider of translation and localization solutions. Since 2002, Palex has been helping clients to get their messages across to people all over the globe, making our world intelligible.

Palex provides high-quality technical translation and localization services for companies ranging from start-ups to the Global 500. With three international offices and a global network of over 1000 translation and localization professionals, Palex translates more than 20 million words a year, working in more than 60 languages and 80 language pairs.

Where You Can Find Us

Tomsk,
Russia

Alexandria,
VA, USA

Almaty,
Kazakhstan

Our Services

Palex works with clients across a variety of different businesses, including medical devices, pharmaceuticals, software and application development, telecommunications, electronics, energy, manufacturing and finance. Each client has an entire team at its disposal, including dedicated project managers, translators, proofreaders, subject matter experts, localization and desktop publishing engineers and quality assurance experts, making it possible to take any project to the next level.

- // Technical and Marketing Translation
- // Software and Web Sites Localization
- // Multilingual Desktop Publishing and Cultural Adaptation
- // Multimedia Localization
- // Localization Engineering and Testing
- // Localization and Translation Project Management
- // Terminology Management
- // Quality Management
- // Voiceover, Subtitling & Dubbing
- // Specialized Software Development

Palex's internal Quality Assurance system meets ISO 9001:2008 standard, and our translation services meet the requirements of the DIN EN 15038:2006 standard.

Advantages of Working with Palex

Project Management Expertise

Our project managers partner seamlessly with your team to create a custom localization solution. We strive to establish personal relationships with each of our clients, empowering our project managers to be proactive — not reactive — in identifying and addressing our clients' needs.

Subject Matter Expertise

Our linguists are well versed in the field to which the translation content relates. But where a project requires translation in a specialized field — where legal, medical or highly technical knowledge is required, for instance — we bring in a Subject Matter Expert to ensure quality. The Expert may be completely unfamiliar with the foreign language in question, but he'll be a top specialist in the subject matter in question with a fluent mastery of the terminology pertinent to the field.

Cost and Time Efficiency

We always strive to improve all of our processes to decrease the number of iterations and potential corrections required. We use the content we have accumulated in our practice for the benefit of each client, which lets us save you substantial amounts of both time and money.

Meticulous Quality Control

We have developed Verifika®, a custom QA tool that is globally recognized for its efficiency and accuracy. Verifika® is designed to apply both standard and special-purpose checks. This software enables us to create solutions that meet each individual client's specific needs, solutions that work not only for both in-house specialists and vendors, but for the client.

Custom Solutions for Management and Automation

We can create dedicated web portals, establish file exchange systems, and implement version control systems like SVN, etc., for optimization and security of all operations.

People to People

Yes, we use all the available technologies in our work, always seeking to optimize our work process, but human contact is always first and foremost for us. We firmly believe that building strong relations of trust with our clients is the only true guarantee of stability and long-term partnership.

Service quality and a high level of professionalism — that's what clients value about Palex. That is why the world's leading companies seek us out when looking for a business partner. We are especially proud of the fact that the majority of our clients become repeat customers after the completion of their first project.

brother

BRAINLAB

SAMSUNG

EA

MRI
INTERVENTIONS

xerox

ulrich medical

PALEX
TRANSLATING IDEAS TO GLOBAL SUCCESS

Visit our website to learn how Palex can help you boost your business internationally and accelerate your time-to-market

PALEXGROUP.COM