OBJECTIVES AND EXPERIENCES

English to Portuguese Translator

Self-Employed | 2022 - Now

- I am seeking an opportunity in the translation field where I can utilize my passion for languages and my knowledge in engineering to provide quality translation services. I aim to contribute with my linguistic and technical skills, delivering accurate and efficient translations, while also enhancing my knowledge and experience in this constantly evolving field. I am committed to delivering excellent work, ensuring client satisfaction, and promoting effective communication across different languages and cultures.
- I worked on unpaid translation projects in translation jobs in university extension projects, using CAT Tool Trados
- I have theoretical knowledge to translate engineering articles, such as translation of websites and magazines in general

SKILLS

Main Skills

- Fluency in English: I am fluent in English, thanks to my exchanges and interactions with my family who resides in the United States. This experience has provided me with a satisfactory level of English proficiency.
- Technical knowledge in engineering: As a graduate in mechanical engineering, I am exposed to engineering content in various languages. This background enables me to effectively translate technical topics in the field.
- Excellent time management and availability: I prioritize delivering translations within the agreed-upon timeframes, and I have the flexibility to accommodate client needs.
