Summary

I am a hardworking and enthusiastic student with a major in medicine and a minor in English literature. I have a passion for translation and am always eager to learn new things and improve my skills. I have experience translating documents from English to Amharic and vice versa, and I am confident in my ability to provide accurate and high-quality translations. I believe that my strong work ethic and dedication to learning make me an excellent candidate for any position that requires attention to detail and a commitment to excellence.

Experience

- Translated legal contracts, rules and regulations for different companies and terms and conditions for different websites
- Translated picture books from English to Amharic.
- Designed different PowerPoint slides as a freelancer and in different school projects
- Worked in a small printing press in town during the lockdown
