Dear Ladies and Gentlemen,

Reliability and dedication are my qualities on any job.

I just successfully finished translating a business merger contract from German to English over the weekend (30 pages) in other words I am available 7 days a week if required.

I would like to apply for your posted freelance position, as I strongly believe that we both could benefit from my experience and expertise in expert translations.

My current rate is $0.05 per word but this rate is negotiable if the work load is larger. I posted a few samples of my work on my personal web site, but I am unable to post more as I have signed confidentiality agreements for most others. I am more than happy to conclude a sample text for you before work, if required.

I was born 1970 in Meissen, Germany where I finished High School on top of my class. In 1989 I moved to Los Angeles where I'm residing ever since.

After successfully finishing high school with a diploma in Germany, I've tried myself in a few different professions including the food service industry, constructions and sales but ended ultimately as a web designer, developer.

It was in this position where I started translating for my clients. I can provide professional translating services in sectors such as financial, web/internet documents, medical, architectural and more.

Another project that I just completed was a Capital & Assets report for a german based investment company.

Here I was asked to translate 7 pages from this report from German to English. The work load included about 2000 words which I finished much to the delight of my client within 4 hours.

- I am fluent in speech as well as writing in German and English and have a basic understanding in Spanish as well.

- My typing/computer skills are on a professional level and I can offer extensive knowledge with most current software programs for Windows as well as Mac.

- I am on a professional level with writing my own custom software solutions in php/mysql as well.

- As for my work settings, I own a 27" iMac, iPad mini and iPhone and maintain a always-on high-speed internet connection.

- Nights and weekends are no problem as well, if required for the job.

- I maintain land-line phone service with AT&T.

- I am using Skype to communicate with family and friends as well as clients on a daily basis and maintain a PayPal account for my financial transactions.

My fields of expertise:

Automotive
