

I am a translator in the English to Chinese and Chinese to English language pairs.

My native language is Chinese. I have a B.A. degree in English. I am also an electrical engineer.

For over ten years working as a translator and interpreter, I have translated a lot of marketing, commercial, computer hardware and software, electrical, electronic, mechanical, lighting, optical and forensic documents.

I have always been providing clients with accurate and fast translation services.