Summary

I do English-Punjabi translations, proofreading, and subtitling. My working domains in the field of translation are science, literary, technical, legal, medical, and media/ journalism translations. I'm big fond of literature and science. I love to read and translate science and literature articles, books, etc. And I believe in the quality of the services which I'm providing to the client. These days I'm working on my medical and legal translation skills.

For any Punjabi, Language related work, problems and issues feel free to contact me.
