

Yad H Amin

I have studied English Language in University of Sulaimani from 2017 to 2021. I studied all of my four academic years with passion and I would focus on all the subjects and would delve deep into them out of my curiosity. Consequently, I passed all my academic years with high marks and I was one of the top students. Additionally, my personality type is INTP. INTPs are known for their attention to small details and analytical capabilities. As an INTP, delving deep into the core of things is both my strength and passion, therefore, I see myself thriving if given a chance.
